Larsen, Necaise elected

Eric Larsen of Kiln was re-elected to Beat 4's seat on the County board of education over two opponents, including the incumbents, Rev. S.P. Powell, and Trustee Lugin Necaise of Beat 3. Larsen retained his post in a five-man race in Tuesday's election.

The two will go in office in January for five-year terms. Unofficial returns from the five precincts in Beat 4 gave Larsen 273 votes to 210 for Dilton J. Ladner and 84 for Powell who has long been associated with the educational system in Hancock County. Larsen ran strongest in his home precinct of Kiln with 185 votes.

Republican Barry Goldwater won almost 63 per cent of Hancock County's vote in Tuesday's presidential election which saw Mississippi go to the GOP for the first time since Reconstruction Days but on a national level the victory went to Democrat Lyndon Johnson by a landslide.

Unofficial returns from the county's 21 precincts gave Goldwater and the Republican electors 2,571 votes to 1,526 for Johnson and the Democrats, on a percentage basis. Johnson's best showing in the state.

The county election commission meets this morning for the official canvass of the vote. It was the second time in the history of the present-day Republican party that its standard bearer has carried Hancock County. The previous time was in 1956 when Dwight D. Eisenhower sought a second term in the White House. At that time the Lily White Republican electors got 1,328 votes and the Black and Tan Republicans 93 to 1,179 for the Democrats and 74 for the States' Righters.

The 1964 GOP victory here was far more decisive as all but three precincts went with Goldwater. Kiln voted for Johnson 154 to 114, City Hall in Bay St. Louis voted Democratic 167 to 117, and Rocky Hill went with Lyndon 43 to 8.

Goldwater's total, in fact, was just about neck and neck with those of U.S. Senator John Stennis and Rep. William M. Colmer of the 5th Congressional District. Democratic running unopposed for re-election.

Figures were not available on those races from Flat Top, Crane Creek or Caesar precincts but of the 18 boxes unofficial totals showed 2,420 for Stennis and 2,478 for Colmer. There were a smattering of write-ins for former Gov. Ross.

Barnett in both these races. For Justice of the Supreme Court from the southern district judges Tom Brady and Robert Lee Jones polled 1,965 and 1,847 votes respectively for re-election without opposition, with 18 of the 21 precincts listed.

Ansley at 6:45 p.m. was the first precinct to report to the Courthouse, giving six votes to Johnson and 10 to Goldwater. Kiln, Caesar and Dedeaux boxes were brought in about 9:30 p.m. when Circuit Clerk and Registrar Lamar Otis closed up shop for the evening. Crane Creek officials had sealed their returns inside the box so that figure will not be formal until today. Only a handful of officials

Veterans day plans are told

A gala parade including the 502nd Keesler Air Force Band and drum and bugle corps will get under way at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday to launch the traditional Veterans Day observance sponsored by the local American Legion post.

A flag raising ceremony on the steps of the Courthouse is to begin at 10:45 a.m. and tribute will be paid to the nation's war dead at that time. Name of the speaker for the 13th annual program, was not available at press time.

Taking part in the activities will be students and faculty of the city and county schools, Brownies and Girl Scouts, Cub packs, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts, affiliates of the Legion, its auxiliary, junior auxiliary and the Sons of the Legion; Spanish American War Veterans, World War I Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and the 40 et 8.

In addition to the Keesler musicians, marching bands will take part from St. Stanislaus College, Bay High School and Hancock North Central School.

Fred Fayard, Americanism chairman for the Legion said the parade route will be from the Carroll Avenue side of Bay High School to the Beach, thence to Main, up Main to Second Street, to Union and to the Beach. It will move the front of the Courthouse for the ceremony.

Set truck weight limit on seawall

An eight-ton limit for trucks traveling along Beach Boulevard was voted by the board of supervisors Monday after Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., reported complaints about heavily loaded trucks moving over Lakeshore Road and the seawall in what appears to be an attempt to avoid the highway scales.

When a deputy stops one of the truck drivers, he is told there are no signs prohibiting the trucks from using Beach Boulevard or any notice of weight limits, the sheriff noted. Supervisors also authorized posting of appropriate signs throughout the area.

Acting on the notice from the U.S. Corps of Engineers calling a public hearing for Dec. 1 on opposition to the construction proposals for the Interstate Highway 10 bridges over Jordan River, supervisors directed notices be sent to various governmental or civic bodies likely to be concerned with the matter.

To be notified of the requirement for written protests are the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, county port and harbor commission, State All Board, Chamber of Commerce, International Paper Co., Mississippi Dept. of Transportation, civil defense organization, regional planning commission and others.

On the motion of Supervisor Charles Levinghouse of Beat 3, the board voted to institute condemnation proceedings at Waveland's Mayor and town's sewerage system rather Board of Aldermen set 9 a.m. than any impending annexation suit, but could be used for the latter purpose.

B. M. Dornblatt explained to council at its meeting Tuesday night he would not plan the sewerage system to handle more than the area within Waveland's limits, but that the additional information on the area of probable expansion would enable planning a system "we

School building session Saturday

After a brief session Monday with only three members present Hancock County School Board recessed until 9 a.m. Saturday when Architect Fred Wagner, Attorney Walter J. ## Call bids on 2nd stand Competitive bids have been called for Dec. 1 on the second stand for ground firing of the solid stage of the Saturn V moon landing design Test Operation. The work force continues its spiral upward at the NASA installation in Hancock County.

The Corps of Engineers this month also awarded a $636,800 contract to Carpenter Brothers of Dallas, Tex., for erection of the new launching facilities.

The work is to start shortly and be completed by next Aug. 1.

The job will include an acoustical laboratory in the building, engineering, construction and meteorology building, supervisor building, and a 1-ton truck near the end of the year.

Since much of this column must be completed early in the week, so, we haven't the faintest idea whether we'll be crowding or exiting crow when Wednesday morning comes around! This is, of course, in reference to the Presidential election, an issue which will be as cold as last night's dishwasher by the time we go to press. The ballots will have been counted, the victorious will have celebrated and lots of bumper stickers will have been in for a hasty scrapping!

Tricks or treat at any age

Halloween was as always predominantly for the little ones and dutiful parents carted sometimes reluctant offspring from door to door where they would knock, call 'trick or treat' and hold open bags with sufficient capacity for sweets to give them tummy aches for days to come. This year's group seemed even cuter than usual to us—maybe we're just mellowing with age, but we have to confess we really enjoyed each and every little visitor—especially the tiny ones who removed their masks to be sure we weren't too frightened by their ghoulish appearance.

The kids had fun, but not as much as one crew of mad maskers—Gerry and Charlie Johnson and Shannon and Tom Roseberry took in the local scene before departing for the Crescent City to make their polka dotted visages known there also. Eleanor and Bob Whitson decided to remain at home and feed small maskers instead of taking the long ride into New Orleans, a decision which they were most gleeful over when Sunday a.m. arrived.

One of the larger events for the grown ups was the dance at St. Clare's which had the best (according to those attending) band heard in these parts for ages...the Blue Notes gave out with smooth, danceable melodies for Phyll and Jimmy Lagasse, Hazel and Ted Breland, Nona and Harold Zimmerman, Claire and Fred Bourgeois, Beulah and Sidney Bourgeois, Ora May and Connie Herlihy, Omega and Haswell Swasey, Caroline and Harold Battalora, the Edward Le Vasseurs, Elaine Davis and Ray Bordages, Ann and Henry Deville, the New Orleans Rupps and a group of their friends, Gloria and Harold Blappert also of New Orleans and Louise and Dave Markay. Jimmy Lagasse had a few sore muscles as the most cooperative orchestra responded almost too willingly to his 'one more time', time and time again. Lots who would have normally taken in the dance had to forego the pleasure due to previous commitments...so they'll have a second chance when the band returns for another engagement on Saturday, Nov. 24. All proceeds go towards reducing the parish debt.

With the birthday set

A very happy birthday wish goes to Elsie (Mrs. Vic) Leveau who is being honored on the occasion today, Thursday, Nov. 5, by the gay little group known as the 'birthday girls'.

Mr. and Mrs. Turk Carter have returned from Texas where they viewed their lovely granddaughter as she paraded in one of the fancier flower exhibits.

Dot and Dan Russell spent last weekend in Baton Rouge where they met friends from all over the state and took in the LSU-Ole Miss football game.

Get well wishes

Get well wishes go to Gladys (Mrs. Peter) Monroe who hasn't been feeling up to par of late, to Shirley Sewell who spent over a week in Hancock General Hospital and we're happy to report that we have absolutely nothing unfortunate to relate on the state of Bertha (Mrs. Alvin) Gemini's health—if she feels as well as she looks, she's completely cured. Jim Redding is another in line for hope you're feeling better greetings—Jim was admitted to Hancock General Monday and is being treated for a blood disorder; its failure to coagulate properly to be specific.

Kathy Martin, youngest daughter of Millie and Maurice Martin, former Waveland residents now living in New Orleans, is to be wed to Joseph Treuel, Jr., on Saturday, at Saint James Major Church.

Mabel Green's seventh grandchild arrived at Touro at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 28. Paul, as he is to be christened, weighed six pounds, 13 ounces. Mary Jane and Ralph Christman, the parents, now have five sons and two daughters.

Quite an anniversary

One of the nicest silver anniversaries ever was observed by Lena and Frank Chinicie last Thursday Oct. 29. The couple was completely surprised by a program given in their honor that afternoon by pupils of Our Lady of the Gulf School where Frank works. A tiny 'radio announcer' from station OLC began the entertainment with a brief resume of the wedding which took place on Oct. 29, 1939—the actual ceremony being acted out by small pupils. Then Jack's career as a salesman for Jack's Cookies was portrayed by a small boy wearing an appropriate sign and a parody to this effect was presented. Lena came in for another number titled Lena, Lena, Lena sung by the children and Jack's Been working in the School-yard was sung to the tune of I've Been Working on the Railroad, just before the Chinicies were presented with a lovely silver cross with two wedding rings entwined. That night a large group of relatives and friends including almost the entire original wedding party, gathered at Lena and Jack's home for a party and a large time was had by all.

Tigers in tank

John McDonald's convertible now sports a 'tiger in its tank'—at least there's a tiger tail protruding from the gas cap. Arthur Chapman is another whose station wagon carried the same insignia.

Ruth and Matt Ballard arrived in Waveland Monday to be guests of Carl and Sam Blanchard for dinner in their new home. Carl's return to Waveland is business and is associated with the Watsons and Walmarts feeding guests at wedding receptions, parties and the like.

Gene Mangum's most attractive wife Ruth and two small blonde daughters visited him in the WROA studio last week. If listeners thought they were static, they were not. In the seconds just happened to be Debbie pounding the typewriter.

The fact that the interior of Gene and Debbie's almost new station wagon was completely destroyed by fire last Thursday night was indeed regrettable, but it could have been much worse...luckily the gas tank did not explode as the burning vehicle was parked beneath the roof of their home, and he had also removed his valuable civilian band radio from the car just about 45 minutes before the blaze.

According to Buddy Dufour, we hospitalized him with his extensive burns and is recovering after a wee bit of surgery. He's actually entered Navy-type, Nose and Throat

Hospital in New Orleans yesterday, Wednesday, Nov. 4. Bob Scivique still wears a bandage over his right eye, but Mrs. Scivique insists she's going to replace it with one of those dashing black patches as he's to wear it for a week or so as yet, and she's of the opinion that it will give him a sort of piratical look...he can't help but wonder if she'll insist upon him having a leg removed and replace with a peg to complete the picture??

Jim Mayfield is as usual combining his annual 30 day vacation with the current hunting season.

Just too much

We'd always been fond of Caroline Kiser—that was until she informed us that with the exception of one purchase, she's completed all of her Christmas shopping. Such efficiency is more than we can bear at this point.

Shirlee and Arch Whitlow are full of tales of their fabulous Dallas vacation. They flew to the Texas city leaving from Moisant airport and were driven back to the Bay by friends whom they visited while in Dallas.

NOTE to all parents of Bay High students—at last you'll have an opportunity to view the inner sanctum where your little darlings blessedly spend a good part of their time. Principal Donald Caldwell will conduct a guided tour of the high school facilities, labs, home rooms, mechanical drawing department, band room and the like for the benefit of members of the newly organized High School P-TA at 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10. Mothers of seniors will host a social hour after the inspection.

Mrs. Jack Smith and Brother Jack, (he's pastor of First Baptist Church in Waveland) welcomed their third son last Friday. Little Gregory Steven arrived at Baptist (of course) Hospital in New Orleans at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3, weighing in at an even seven pounds. Mrs. Smith and the newest arrival are doing fine, in fact they returned home Monday.

Maureen (Mrs. Cary) Wheatley and two and three-quarter children arrived here Sunday for a visit with her parents, Carmen and Mitch Mitchell, while husband Lt. Cary (USA) is on sea duty in the Mediterranean.

Why not go?

In its report on the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System in April, 1963, Associated Consultants in Education, Meridian, recommended:

"Irrespective of the effects of NASA immediate action should be taken by the school board to call an election through the city officials for a bond issue to include:

"Construction of a high school for white pupils planned for a minimum of 600 pupils with provision for ready expansion on a site of 20 to 40 acres; site expansion and construction necessary for Valena C. Jones Center; renovation of the present Bay High building primarily to house junior high facilities and afford standby space for grades 4, 5 and 6 as may be needed; expand elementary facilities as needed at North Bay Elementary, Waveland, or elsewhere, except that S. J. Ingram building should not be increased until all other efforts prove futile."

It further recommended that "an authorization of $1,000,000 should be asked for, the bonds to be issued as needed". It also prophesied "NASA construction will increase other construction costs in the city and county".

As to location of the proposed new high school the report states:

"The present site on Dunbar Avenue is tempting to locate the new high school on and scarcity of funds may require it. However, every effort should be made to locate a 20-acre, or more, site in the vicinity of section 34-43 north of U. S. 90."

The municipal school board's recommendations, on which the Nov. 24 bond issue election is based, follows almost exactly the suggestions of Associated Consultants in Education. Even the site purchased off Blue Meadow Road for the high school is where professionals in the field recommended after a detailed study of growth in the area and prospects for future growth.

At 8 p.m. tonight in Bay High gym you can get the answers to your questions of why this and why that. So why don't you go?

Bay and bayou

By HANK EVANS

While the Echo staff was working late one night last week, there was a sudden, loud thump and the whole building shook. We thought for a moment that the North Vietnamese had gotten our mortar range, but it turned out to be nothing quite so serious: it was only William Plumstead and John Walker having a little practice session at sport-karate on the second floor of the Echo building in the Russell School of Dancing.

Karate, as most people know, is the gentle art of killing a man with a single blow of the bare hand. It was developed by islanders of the South Pacific during the 1600s when their rulers forbade them to carry any weapon whatsoever. Unlike judo, which is the skill of unarmed self-defense, the original form of karate is strictly an offensive tool.

KARATE PRACTICE - William Plumstead, left, and John Walker, right, practice their sport-karate on the second floor of the Echo building in the Russell School of Dancing. The two men have been practicing for about a year and a half. They are members of the Mississippi Karate Association, which has a chapter in New Orleans. They have won at least two championships in New Orleans and are now competing in the national tournament in Atlanta.

For the past year and a half, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartman have been working hard, mostly after Mr. Hartman, to build a large bayou boat on their pier for their pleasure. They have been working on the boat for the past year and a half, and it is now almost finished. It is a 30-foot long boat with a 10-foot wide deck. The boat is made of wood and has a motor. It is a very nice boat and it is a great place to go fishing and swimming.

And H.A. (Hank) Evans, the author of this article, has been working hard to get his new house built. He has been working on the house for the past year and a half, and it is now almost finished. It is a 20-foot long house with a 10-foot wide deck. The house is made of wood and has a motor. It is a very nice house and it is a great place to go fishing and swimming.

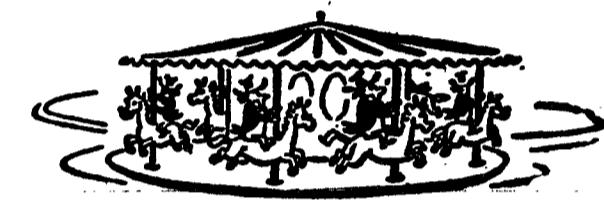

Well, that's all for now. See you all again next week.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—After a rest at the LBJ ranch, President Johnson will return to the problems of what he hopes will be a very productive Presidential year.

First on the list will be the question of his Cabinet and filling various vacancies just below Cabinet level.

In general, Johnson will retain the present Kennedy Cabinet. He likes them and they seem to like him. He has already urged Secretary of Defense McNamara to remain, and Secretary of State Rusk has promised to stay on at least one year. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon also seems inclined to remain, though some important administrative jobs under him in the Treasury are open.

There is only one vacancy in the Cabinet at the moment, that of Attorney General, and Johnson leans toward either James Rowe, one of his campaign managers, or Willard Wirtz, now Secretary of Labor, to fill it.

Anthony Celebrezze, Secretary of HEW and former Mayor of Cleveland, wants to step down, and will probably be appointed to the Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia.

Luther Hodges may also retire as Secretary of Commerce, in which case the President leans toward either Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., now Under Secretary, or George Killion, president of the American President Lines in San Francisco.

LBJ's foreign policy

Johnson will push peace talks hard. He is ambitious to go down in history as a great peacetime President who was able to iron out the dangers of nuclear war and create better understanding between the United States and the communist world.

He was delighted with the message from new Soviet Premier Kosygin and is open to an invitation to meet with the new leaders of the Kremlin in any place in Europe or the United States as soon as they have solidified their own domestic problems.

Johnson means it when he says he will meet anyone to talk about the problems of better understanding. He has already told this to Soviet Ambassador Dobrynin.

Right wing propaganda

Charles Vanik, the Congressman from Cleveland, performed one of the most constructive jobs of the election campaign when he spear-headed a drive to puncture the smears in the smear book "None Dare Call It Treason." Vanik helped organize the Citizens for Civic Responsibility which made a detailed survey of the book and showed that the quotes and citations which to the average reader seemed authentic, actually came from unreliable persons or right-wing Congressmen.

The whole trend of the book was to undermine confidence in the State Department, the Defense Department, and the conduct of American foreign policy.

This writer, who has watched both departments carefully over the years, can report that 99 per cent of the government servants in these departments are dedicated, patriotic Americans. If they make mistakes—as they sometimes do—they're mistakes of judgment, not of deliberate desire to sabotage the United States.

During the campaign, Vanik mailed out almost 100,000 copies of the reply to this smear book prepared by the Citizens for Civic Responsibility.

Battle inside the GOP

The Republican party is sure to go through spasms of internal warfare and reorganization. Republican moderates are set to stage a battle to regain control. Goldwater conservatives are equally determined to keep control.

Most people outside the Republican party command down-right. "None Dare Call It Treason" had little to do with moderates from the Republican National Committee, but even their right-wing functionaries have been solidified.

As a result, the conservatives have held confidential meetings with their own members and have been threatening to expel those who do not support them. The conservative wing of the party has been pressuring the party to take a stand on the issue of civil rights.

Gripe corner

This week it's actually about a dog...as much as we love all canines, even we can't get too enthusiastic over one that bites. Apparently there is an ill-tempered animal in Cedar Point, as a lady of our acquaintance has been bitten on the ankle twice in one week by a small black dog near the corner of Dunbar and Felicity. Hope the dog's owner reads this and will at least let us know if the pup has had rabies shots. We'll pass the information on to the victim, who incidentally happens to be Louise Niehaus, in case the owner also might want to offer at least an apology.

Local citizenry gave full support to the area's first real stab at cultural entertainment and turned out full force at the New Orleans Philharmonic symphony Monday night. As we were unable to attend for a number of reasons, mostly due to the fact that we had lots of column to write, bright-eyes Gex, better known as Nancy (Mrs. Lucien, Jr.) obligingly took notes as to what some of the ladies wore. Pat Vigerie, who with husband Joe hosted a post-concert party, chose black and wore some of the new very fancy lace hose; Adeline Samuel introduced the group wearing blue lace and we're happy to report that Dr. Samuel felt well enough to attend. Ade Whitfield was in a sapphire dress with silver mink; Margaret Hadden's black and white chiffon blouse was accented with a black velvet skirt; her mother Rita Bob wore black crepe as did Rebecca Seal, Kate Saux and Peggy Hepting. Eve McDonald wore a black sheath, Jo Gex, flowered silk, Laurie Poindexter, a print sheath, Lula Spence, a flame hued suit, Mary Carter chose beige; Edith Dantagnan, red, as did Matt Kergosien; Virginia Miller was in yellow jersey accented with jet jewelry and green in various hues was selected by Liz Whitfield, Nancy Adams and Alice Dupaquier; Evelyn Griffin wore rose chiffon; Emily de Monthuzin, red, Jean Gleim, blue; and Miss Veronica Mohr was in turtleneck with rhinestone headdress while her sister, Miss Henrietta wore black with a mink stole.

MORE ON ANIMALS - If anyone sees a siamese cat about one and one-half years old running around, please call Phyllis (Mrs. Sheldon) Sezenneau. Her blue seal siamese, Devil, has been missing for several days longer than on any previous nocturnal ramblings and she's beginning to worry about his welfare.

Surprise visit

There was much jubilation around the homes of Myrtle and R.W. Jones, Grace and Sam Bordages and Lottie and Garfield Ladner last Friday when Melvin (Budgie) Wilson arrived for a surprise visit on a 21-day leave from the Marine Corps. Happiest of all of course was wife Geraldyn, especially as if the work is at all cooperative, Budgie will be on hand when their first child arrives. The blessed event is slated to take place around the middle of the month.

Visiting Ben and George Georgi last weekend were Jane and Ben Wood and Jane's daughter, Donna, whose married name we can't remember. The Woods are now living in Pensacola.

Although Teena and Lam-

ber Bordages missed the World

25 YEARS TOGETHER - Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chinicke of Old Spanish Trail celebrated their silver wedding anniversary with an open house for a host of relatives and friends last Thursday night. Mrs. Chinicke, formerly Lena DiLorenzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony DiLorenzo of Long Beach, and Mr. Chinicke were married Oct. 29, 1939, at St. Thomas Church, Long Beach. Members of the original wedding party present for the party were Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. Charles Giannetta, Miss Phina DiLorenzo and her flower girl, Miss Kathleen Benigno. Her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Margiotta of Gulfport, celebrating their 34th anniversary of the same date, joined the group.

bert Bordages missed the World Series for the first time in many years, the area was represented by Jenny and Frank Trepain who took in the first two games in St. Louis.

Bill Erdmann manages to get home just about every weekend to take Michael Ruppell on his weekly outing, but he's been getting lots of travelling on his present job. He recently flew to Houston, Tex., by jet, then found orders to proceed to Morgan City when he arrived home.

Visiting Shirley Dunphy are two sisters and one brother-in-law. Inez Dunphy arrived from New Orleans and Mary and Bill Walkinshaw drove in from Jacksonville, Fla.

Ike Lang, and he's an expert angler, says the big trout are biting just as fast as you

Front wheels operate independently... forged I-beam axles... forged radius rods for lasting wheel alignment.

Only Ford Dealers have it!

Two front axles make this one the toughest, smoothest riding pickup ever! Here's why: each wheel works independently on its own axle... a forged steel I-beam axle... big trucks use! Forged steel radius rods lock in wheel alignment! Two axles share the load, and because each axle works independently a bump at one wheel won't move the other. Add heavy-duty coil springs and you've got it... the smoothest riding, toughest independent front end in any pickup! Come on in and see for yourself how smooth a tough Twin I-Beam Ford pickup really is.
